SNAKE FRIGHT

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsexnews.co.uk

A CAR owner got the fright of his life when he opened the bonnet of his car and saw a 4ft-long Californian cornsnake resting on the engine.

Errol Davis (50) of Sycamore Fields, Harlow, was preparing to top up the oil in his BMW when he was greeted by the sight of the bright orange serpent.

"I saw it as soon as I opened the bonnet and screamed like a five-year-old girl," said the father-of-four, who has a severe phobia of snakes. "It was right next to my hand and moving around so I just ran."

"Give me spiders or crocodiles or anything else, I don't mind. But not snakes. I just hate snakes!"

Errol went straight to the MOT's R UZ garage in Edinburgh Way where he knows the owner, Shaun Cope.

"I ran all the way there, gave over my keys and told them 'You deal with it'. I wouldn't give my car away just like that so they knew something was up although I don't think they believed me when I said it was a snake."

Shaun and his mechanics were amazed when they saw the snake for themselves. "It certainly isn't a car issue we've experienced here before," he said.

"We decided to leave it overnight in the hope that it would move off on its own accord. Then over the next week we literally took everything but the bumper off the car to try to find it but we saw nothing so assumed it must have gone or died."

BMW owner lifts his car bonnet to find a 4ft-long cornsnake on the engine

"Then on the last day I was jet-washing the engine and 'Dread the Snake' - as we have nicknamed it here - popped its head up again. "It was unbelievable. You tell me where a bright orange 4ft snake managed to hide all that time."

It was Shaun who eventually put an end to the saga when, using a tea towel, he managed to grab hold of the snake and pull it from the engine.

The RSPCA have since taken the snake, which is not poisonous, to an exotic animal shelter where they say it is doing well.

Errol, who works at the Mecca bingo club in the town centre, said he believed the snake must have been living in his car for around three weeks after being abandoned by its owner.

"I remember a few weeks ago walking past some aquarium tanks that had been left by the road," he said. "Soon after a sign went up asking if anyone had lost a bright orange snake as it had been spotted in our car park."

"Even that gave me nightmares. I kept imagining it slithering into my room at night so you can imagine what this week has been like."

He added: "I don't think I will ever be able to open that bonnet on my own again."

Pitney Bowes jobs to go in site move

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

HUNDREDS of jobs are to be lost from Harlow when one of the town's biggest employers relocates the majority of its workforce.

Office supplies and communications specialist Pitney Bowes has told the 650 staff working at Pinnacles that it intends to transfer most of them to a site in Hatfield more than 15 miles away.

However, it is understood that some workers will be made redundant although the company is refusing to reveal the exact numbers involved.

It is also proposing to move approximately 200 staff to a new location in Harlow.

Pitney Bowes, which has occupied the Harlow site for more than 45 years, said the move came after a comprehensive review revealed the building was no longer "fit for purpose" and required substantial investment.

This week Harlow MP Robert Halfon and Harlow Council leader Andrew Johnson said they would do all they could to keep as many jobs in town as possible.

Patrick Jelly, Pitney Bowes' managing director of UK operations, said: "After so many years based in Harlow we had hoped to find suitable premises close by but this proved impossible given our space requirements. However, we still aim to remain a major employer in the town."

"With respect to those employees that we are proposing to relocate out of the immediate Harlow area, it is our intention to retain as many as possible and we are embarking on a period of consultation with employees and their representatives to ensure that this is the case."

One worker, who asked to remain anonymous, told the Star: "Everyone is upset by the move and a quite a few have said they want to take voluntary redundancy, especially those near retirement age. There are people that have been here for over 30 years so the last thing they want to do is start commuting to Hatfield.

"We all think it is strange that they have been unable to find another suitable building when so many are standing empty in Harlow at the moment. Just across the road is the old GlaxoSmithKline building which would easily hold 400 people."

Councillor Johnson said: "Pitney Bowes has a strong connection with Harlow's past and present and we want this to continue into the future."

"The company is a major employer in Harlow and their workers, many from Harlow, will want to stay in the town. The council will do all that it can to help retain as many of these jobs as possible in Harlow."

Mr Halfon added: "I am grateful to Pitney Bowes for opening up discussions with me at an early stage. Despite the announcement it is good that they have pledged to maintain about 200 employees here."

"I will continue to work with Pitney Bowes over the weeks ahead to see what can be done. I will be meeting with employees and management and will also be speaking with the Government's Minister for Business."

David Forman, secretary of Harlow Trades Union Council, said the announcement had come as a shock.

"Pitney Bowes has been providing good employment for people in this town for so long and they have also been very supportive of many local charities. It will be a disaster if those jobs go to Hatfield and will have a big knock-on effect in the town."

"Already all the small businesses around the Pinnacles area – the cafes and restaurants and petrol station – are suffering after the GlaxoSmith-Kline reductions. That will only get worse."

"It will be some time before new jobs will be available within the recently announced Enterprise Zone so a lot of people could really suffer from this."

TV slot for drama group's lotto bid

PLAYHOUSE-based performing arts group Razed Roof featured on primetime television on Saturday night when their bid to win Best Arts Project in the National Lottery Awards 2011 was included in the weekly draw programme on BBC1.

Razed Roof has been shortlisted for its Inclusion Through Practice project which involved a series of workshops to develop a production of Billy Elliot. It stands to win £2,000 and a spot on the BBC's One Show if it can gain the highest number of public votes.

Director Annette Lidster said: "We're absolutely delighted to have made it through to the finals and really hope people will give their support by voting for us in the final."

Ramble group ladies take walk on the wild side

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

CHEEKY ramblers found themselves out in the open when they agreed to strip off for a charity calendar.

What started as a joke soon turned into reality as the 14 women from the Harlow Walking Group were persuaded to undress for the tasteful Calendar Girls-style fundraiser in aid of Harlow Fields School.

"It was my idea," said 73-year-old Sheila Cleary, of Hawkenbury. "We were walking one Friday talking about fundraising events we could do and I said we should do a calendar like those calendar girls."

"Despite laughing at first, everyone was surprisingly enthusiastic about the idea and eventually we decided, well why not – much to our children's and grandchildren's disgust!"

It took the group, who are all aged between 60 and 80, about 15 months to complete the project. They were photographed in various locations including Parndon Wood Nature Reserve, Lancasters Farm and around the River Stort.

"The first photoshoot was the most nerve-racking," said Sheila. "We were down this secluded path in Harlow on a really cold day with our photographer and realised there was no turning back."

"So we took our tops off and just got on with it. It became much easier each time after that."

Following a 'walking holiday' theme for the calendar, the ladies went out in all weather conditions each month using items ranging from scarves and umbrellas to boots and haystacks to cover their dignity, although Sheila said there were still a few close calls with some shocked passers-by.

"I remember there was one time when we were in a river and this guy came along on his bike," she said. "There he was pedalling away when he suddenly caught sight of us. He was so shocked he almost cycled straight into the water."

The calendar, which is launched this week, costs £4.50. All the profits will go towards buying equipment for the specialist school.

"It has been a huge project and we are thrilled to have finally completed it," added Sheila. "We have all had a lot of fun on the way and great support from many people.

"We just all now hope the calendar will really take off in Harlow and we raise as much money as possible for Harlow Fields. Hopefully everyone will have one on their walls for 2012."

To order a Harlow Walking Group calendar call either Peter on (01279) 830886 or June on (01279) 412540.

Urgent need for more volunteers

VOLUNTEERS of all ages and abilities are urgently needed to help out with a range of projects across Harlow.

The Harlow Volunteer Centre is looking to recruit as many people as possible to assist different community groups in the town with their work.

"We have a whole range of roles to fill right now and would ask anyone with some free time looking for something interesting to get involved with to come and see us," said organiser Della Nash.

"From mini bus drivers and sales assistants for charity Christmas cards to volunteer stewards at firework displays and learning support assistants, we have many different positions to suit different people that will be both fun and rewarding."

She added: "Most don't require any previous experience as full training is always given. More than anything it is a great way to help out and gain some extra skills."

To find out more, contact Della at Volunteer Centre Harlow on (01279) 308310 or email dellanash@volunteercentreharlow.org.uk.

Pop to the pub for disco night

A HARLOW pub is hoping to top up its fundraising total for St Clare Hospice with an adults' disco night on Saturday.

The Red Lion, in Potter Street, has already collected more than £1,100 for the hospice by holding various events and raffles and now wants to make one final push to get the total over £1,500.

Landlord Noel Kelly said: "A group of us from the pub did a big London to Harlow bike ride recently which raised a lot of money, but we thought it would be nice to put on one more fundraising event."

"It is sure to be a really fun night and we hope as many people as possible will come and join us in support of a great cause."

The disco starts at 8pm and tickets cost £3. For more information call (01279) 422947

Lottery winners

THE winner of the £1,000 prize in the weekly St Clare Hospice lottery draw on Friday, August 26 is ticket holder 656610, who lives in Harlow.

The second prize of £100 goes to the holder of ticket number 207796, who lives in Waltham Abbey.

Show your support for Alzheimer's annual fundraiser

THE Harlow branch of the Alzheimer's Society is looking for people to take part in its annual Memory Walk in remembrance of loved ones who have suffered dementia.

"We always get fantastic support from Harlow and hope to be in the hundreds again this year," said Marion Howell, support service manager for West Essex.

"The Memory Walk stands for so many different things. As well as being a fun, healthy day out with family and friends, it is an opportunity for people to remember relations who had dementia and a chance to raise awareness of how many local families are continuing to support a person with dementia on a daily basis."

She added: "This is the main fundraiser for the Alzheimer's Society and, therefore, a vital event for us to be able to continue providing the support services we do to those affected by dementia in the community."

Those taking part will be given a choice of walks ranging in distance from 0.5 miles to four miles through Harlow Town Park and along the River Stort.

Alzheimer's Society fundraiser Jade Rolph added: "The Harlow Memory Walk is a really popular event and we hope members of the public will continue to show their support this year. Well-behaved dogs are welcome to join in, too!"

The Memory Walk takes place on Sunday, September 18, starting at 11am from the School Lane car park in Harlow. To register, visit www.memorywalk.org.uk/harlow or contact the society's Harlow office at the Latton Bush Centre in Southern Way on (01279) 418331.

Schools granted academy status

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

FOUR schools in Harlow have started the new term as academies after breaking away from local authority control.

The Secretary of State for Education has approved the applications for academy status from Passmores, St Mark's West Essex, Holy Cross Primary and St Albans Primary.

As well as being able to take on a sponsor to aid funding, the schools will now make decisions in areas including staff pay and conditions, delivery of the curriculum and the lengths of terms and school days.

Passmores Academy, which welcomed pupils and staff back to its new multi-million pound complex yesterday (Wednesday), is supported by the Schools Co-operative Society.

"The Co-operative vision for schools is very different from the other fast-growing chains where sovereignty and governance in the long term is effectively handed over to the sponsor," said headteacher Vic Goddard.

"This model ensures that it is the community and those with a direct interest in our school who are at the heart of our governance for the best possible chance to succeed in a challenging economic environment."

Susan McGuigan, headteacher of Holy Cross, said the most important aspect of the move was that it was independent from local authority control.

"We are still a diocese school and our main funding will still come from central Government," she said. "In essence, becoming an academy means we will have more freedom with decision making which we feel is important in Catholic schools.

"We had to get the Bishops backing on this and would like to stress that the Catholic faith will always stay central to what we do. It is an important development for our school and the start of a new era."

Harlow MP Robert Halfon said: "Academy status will mean more freedom for heads and teachers, good teachers will be able to earn higher salaries and more money will be invested in Harlow education."

"I hope that many other schools will take up the opportunity to become academies in years ahead, though respect the decision of those who choose to stay under the local authority."

But Mark Wilkinson, Labour group leader on Harlow Council, said the move had been rushed.

"My party has had a lot of reservations about academies from the onset," he said. "I don't believe there was ever enough consultation with the parents and students on changing to academy status, and instead the plans were pushed through as quickly as possible by people primarily interested in making money."

Secret Millionaire star to be guest at relaunch of property network group

A SUCCESSFUL businesswoman who appeared on the Channel 4 series Secret Millionaire is to be the guest speaker at this month's relaunch of the Harlow Property Network.

Gill Fielding trained as a chartered accountant and has held several high-profile positions including advisor to the Inland Revenue on tax-free savings. As well as her appearance on Secret Millionaire, she has been a business expert on The Apprentice: You're Fired, a financial commentator for both the BBC and ITV and hosts a monthly radio phone-in programme.

She has been invited to the HPN networking event - which takes place at the Harlow Enterprise Hub in Edinburgh Way on Wednesday, September 21 - to talk about property and wealth creation.

Harlow Property Network was set up to give individuals the chance to share strategies and investment opportunities in the property market in Harlow and the surrounding areas. It meets on the third Wednesday of every month at Harlow Enterprise Hub.

The relaunch is being sponsored by Property Unlocked, a training company set up by businessmen Bryan Hunt and Rob Ellice who between them have more than 45 years experience in property investment.

The relaunch starts with registration at 7pm followed at 7.30pm by the commencement of the evening's programme. To reserve a place email hpn@garymshaw.co.uk.

Thieves cash in on scrap metal prices

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsexnews.co.uk

POLICE are appealing for witnesses following a spate of metal thefts in Harlow.

During the past week three drain covers were removed from a road outside a school while a quantity of railings were removed from two footbridges over the River Stort.

The drain covers were located outside Harlow Fields School in Tendring Road and were reported missing by members of the public.

Thefts of drain covers across the country have been on the increase because of the rise in the price paid for scrap metal.

"It is so dangerous," said Carol Howorth, of Patridge Court, who first noticed the missing manhole covers on her way to work. "Huge holes are left in the road which someone could fall down and really hurt themselves."

"Just imagine if it was one of the children from the school."

She added: "Even when they are covered up - which is usually done with a big concrete paving slab - it still poses a risk to motorists who could damage their vehicles on them."

Gallery at Parndon Mill, called the theft of the bridge railings a "disgrace".

"I think it is terrible that people can take something that is of value in its situation for scrap value," she said.

"A lot of care and a lot of money was spent to make those bridges accessible to the disabled and now they will probably be closed until the railings are replaced."

"It is a waste of time and public money at a time when that is so precious."

Essex County Council, which is responsible for replacing the manhole covers, said it considered the thefts to be a "very serious issue".

"Not only does it pose an obvious safety risk, it also costs a significant amount of money to replace them and can cause disruption to motorists whilst repair work is taking place," said a spokesperson.

"If anyone has any information on these thefts, they should contact the police."

A spokesman for Essex Police said: "We are asking for anybody who sees anyone removing drain covers or any metal to contact us. We would always rather attend and find all in order than turn up a day later to find a theft has occurred."

Anyone with information about metal thefts should contact Harlow police station on 0300 333 4444 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Mums thrilled by support for buggy push

SCORES of people joined a sponsored buggy push organised by two Harlow mums to raise money for causes close to their hearts. Friends Natalie Kent, of The Readings, and Mandy Bunyan, of Ashtree Fields, were delighted at the support they received for their Little Stars buggy walk and teddy bears picnic in aid of the stillbirth and neonatal death charity Sands and Meningitis UK. Natalie and Mandy, who both lost children to the conditions, laid on a bouncy castle, donkey rides, face painting, glitter tattoos and a 'balloons to heaven' tribute at Sunday's event in Harlow Town Park which raised more than £1,000. "It was an amazing day despite the downpours," said Natalie. "Everyone stuck together and really showed their support. "We want to say a really big thank you to everybody who came along and stayed despite the weather. "In particular we would like to thank Party and Pamper for their help and donations, and KMG Creations for their incredible work with balloon displays."

Woman went on spending spree with money taken from OAP's bank account

A LAUNDERETTE worker who took thousands of pounds from an elderly customer's bank account after he asked her to buy him braces for his trousers, has been told by a judge she was a deeply dishonest woman.

Mother-of-three Susan Clinton (46), of Felmongers, Harlow, used the pensioner's bank card and pin number to buy goods on the internet and pay for a holiday in Turkey.

She was only caught when the victim's sister found out what had happened and alerted the police. Clinton, who admitted a total of seven offences of fraud, was given a 12-month jail sentence suspended for two years and ordered to pay £600 compensation and £250 costs.

Andrew Jackson, prosecuting, told Chelmsford Crown Court: "The defendant, who managed a launderette at The Stow, came into contact with the victim who was homeless and living in a van."

"He went to the launderette, was befriended by Clinton and a degree of trust was placed in her. He asked her to buy him some braces as he suffered illness and had difficulty with his trousers."

Mr Jackson said Clinton then embarked on a "course of thieving" and carried out a large number of transactions involving household items worth about £5,000. She also obtained travel insurance for £70 and a holiday to Turkey for £2,222 which was later cancelled, as well as groceries worth £429.

Jodie Hitchcock, representing Clinton, said it had become "some-what compulsive" and had spiralled out of control.

Passing sentence, judge Anthony Goldstaub told Clinton: "You showed yourself to be a deeply dishonest person. You took money from the bank of an elderly gentleman who had shown you trust."

"You breached that trust in an appalling way by helping yourself to his money. You're shame will be punishment in itself."

Court penalty a warning to dog owners

DOG owners have been warned they could be landed with a hefty bill if they fail to clean up after their animals after a woman was taken to court and ordered to pay a £265 penalty for the offence.

The woman was served with a £50 fixed penalty notice by Harlow

Council neighbourhood enforcement officers on patrol in Park Mead.

When she failed to pay up the case went to court and she was ordered to pay the £50 penalty with costs of £200 and a £15 victim surcharge.

A council spokesman said: "Most dog owners help to keep our open spaces clean and green by clearing up after their pets, but there is clearly the odd person who believes tidying up is for others to do.

"This sentence shows that the considerate option, and the cheaper one, is to do the right thing and dispose of your dog's mess yourself."

Knife threat youths stole mobile phone

TWO teenagers who threatened a young man with a penknife and stole his mobile phone have been given suspended sentences after a judge said it would be "disastrous" if they spent time in custody.

Jean-Luc Hairs (18), of Berecroft, Harlow, and Kieran Brennan (18), of Playhouse Square, Harlow, pleaded guilty to a charge of robbery.

Peter Gair, prosecuting, told Chelmsford Crown Court that victim Harry Grosvenor (18), was speaking on his mobile phone in Joyner's Field in the early hours of April 25 when he was approached by the defendants. One of them was one wearing a bandana and the other put a bandana across his face as well.

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertssexnews.co.uk

Mr Gair said Brennan told Mr Grosvenor: "Give me your phone bruv or blood" and held up a penknife which he pointed at the victim's face.

Mr Grosvenor handed over the phone but thought he recognised Brennan and said: "Hello Kieran". "The defendant stumbled for a moment and then continued," said Mr Gair.

Police searched the area and found both defendants, Harris with the knife and Brennan with the phone.

In an interview after his arrest, Brennan said he borrowed the knife from Hairs and intended to sell the phone.

The court heard both youths suffered depression and had self-harmed.

Recorder Richard Gordon said an immediate custodial sentence for both would be disastrous at this point in their lives as they had suicidal tendencies. As a result he had been persuaded to suspend their 12-month sentences for a period of two years.

They were also ordered to complete 250 hours of unpaid work and attend a mentoring centre for 30 days.

GATEWAY NURSERY Youngsters marked the end of their time at the Perry Road nursery with a graduation ceremony.

Wearing mortarboards and specially made gowns emblazoned with the nursery's new logo, they were each presented with certificates and given their learning journey profiles created during their time at the pre-school.

Parents were then entertained with a special graduation song produced for the event and a rendition of the children's favourite tune.

"It was a really nice evening and everyone seemed to really enjoy themselves," said nursery owner

Emma Pike.

"This is the first group of children to graduate from the nursery since I took over so it was really important to give them a good send off."

She added: "We wish them the very best in their new school and hope they will come back and visit us soon."

HOLY CROSS PRIMARY Pupils took a round-the-world trip without leaving the classroom when they took part in an international week before the summer break.

During the week they were taught about different countries and cultures and enjoyed performances from Bollywood, Greek and Spanish dancers

The week's events were rounded off with a food-tasting session which featured dishes from 34 countries.

"We do international week every year and every year it just gets better and better," said Kerry Clark, business manager at the Tracys Road school.

"It is always a very popular event with the children who really enjoy themselves, especially at the food tasting on the last day.

"By inviting in the children's families it also helps community cohesion and gives our pupils an understanding of all the different cultures there are in the world."

RAINDROPS NURSEY It was time for the men to test their baking skills when fathers, uncles, grandfathers and older brothers were invited in for the day.

As well as helping to make and decorate cakes for a tea party, they spent the day playing with the children at the Harberts Road nursery.

"We haven't done anything like this before but thought it would be nice for the children to bring in their male influences as it is important that they all have one in their lives," said Hannah Botten.

"It was amazing how many men turned up and all the kids seemed to really enjoy having them here to play with. The men also seemed to really enjoy themselves and we received some great feedback."

She added: "It is definitely something we will do again in the future."

Full of praise for care centre staff

SIR, I am writing in response to the articles about recent events at the Partridge Care Centre in Harlow.

My father, who suffers from Alzheimer's, has been a resident there since last December and I cannot praise the staff enough for the care and affection shown to him every day.

He shares every day with up to 15 other residents, all suffering from various degrees of dementia and ill health and each and every one is treated with respect and dignity by all the carers. I have never witnessed anything untoward against any of the residents and I have seen some very challenging behaviour exhibited by one or two residents.

In an ideal world none of his clothes would go missing in the laundry but even this has been redressed and significant improvements in that area have been made. I feel if that is my main cause of complaint then everything else must be pretty damn good.

Obviously I have no knowledge on the incidents that have happened there and it is very sad that people have died, but if things weren't being done in the right way before, now this has happened and with all the extra help and training being implemented, very soon Partridge Care Centre will be at the top of its field.

I just wanted to put my thoughts on paper and record my gratitude to the way all the employees at the centre go about their jobs on a daily basis.

Dad is treated with dignity and respect

SIR, On my return from holiday I have seen several reports relating to the Partridge Care Centre and have since been brought up to date by the management of the home and the various official agencies involved.

I offer my deepest sympathy to those families affected by what has happened.

The permanent staff deserve praise where it is due, together with the support of the families who have residents at Partridge. They are doing a wonderful job in the most difficult of circumstances.

My father has been a resident at Partridge Care Centre since the end of last year. He suffers from Alzheimer's and our family had to make a very difficult decision to place him somewhere for his safety and wellbeing.

I cannot praise highly enough the care, attention and love given by his carers and all other associated staff within Partridge. His every need is addressed with dignity, respect and love.

Within his unit there are and have been residents with challenging behaviour and these, too, have been carefully addressed to minimise their effect on themselves and others. I have never witnessed any intervention by staff that could be considered harsh, brutal or excessive.

My father will never again be aware of his previous life – Alzheimer's has robbed him of that – but I feel his current life at Partridge is giving him a settled, reassured life in a wonderful setting. He is

Cyclists should be

SIR, John Curry writes imploring Harlow Council to lower road speeds in order to encourage cyclists on to the roads of Harlow (Letters, September 1).

Why should motorists have to suffer cyclists on the roads, most of whom are uninsured nuisances, when Harlow quite rightly can boast of having cycle tracks all around the town?

They may not be the most direct routes but if time were of the essence then you would not be cycling anyway.

Why don't cyclists make use of these cycle tracks? Most mornings I find that cyclists who fail to use the cycle track adjacent to Southern Way make the traffic slow down as they ride too far from kerb for anyone to safely manoeuvre around them.

People should look at motorised transport as a benefit, not some hindrance. Milton Keynes manages to have all its byways as 70mph and pedestrians and cyclists alike are kept from the roads.

This is what Harlow should try to achieve.

Martin Brown
address supplied - Editor

SIR, The call for a 40mph speed limit on Gilden Way is ridiculous.

As both a motorist and a cyclist who cycles to London a number of days a week, I sympathise with the plight of cyclists generally but my experience is that it is not speed that is the main threat, it is driver attitudes to cyclists.

Many drive with no respect, not realising that if they knock a cyclist off their bike they will almost certainly be facing a criminal charge. If it is fatal, they will be staring at a charge of causing death by dangerous driving which could land them in jail for 10 years.

Cyclists do not endanger themselves to drivers at the best of times and reducing speed limits just for cyclists is not entertained by the activities that are provided, he has put on weight and has the company of others around him all the time.

This gives me and my siblings the reassurance that he is receiving the necessary level of care that we are unable to provide ourselves.

Mrs T. Sharp

Devoted team deserve support

SIR, There has been much adverse news created about the Partridge Care Centre in recent weeks and I believe it is time to redress the balance.

There have been problems in the care centre and these have already been brought to the attention of the Care Group management. The manager and his deputy both left and a more robust management chain is now in place.

This new management is already having an effect and staffing levels are being increased to support what are already an excellent team of care assistants. These staff members are devoted to providing care to our relative as if he were a member of their own family and we cannot praise them enough.

We, and the majority of other families' relatives, were almost unanimous in our approval with the way in which the centre is now providing care and some positive publicity would help provide this devoted team of carers some support from the local population who up to now have only seen bad publicity.

Publishing this letter would be a start.

Bus firm has been willing to listen

SIR, I was pleased to see the letter in the Star about improvement in the bus services. However, I thought it would be useful to set the record straight as to what I had done as MP, having been contacted by a number of residents.

Some time ago I learned that Arriva would be making some changes to its Harlow bus services. About 25 people contacted my office and straight away I contacted John Kateley, group commercial manager at Arriva, and had a number of conversations in which he admitted the changes could have been managed better. I was given a telephone number to pass onto residents if they were concerned or needed any information.

Most people were concerned about how these changes had been done rather than the actual changes themselves. Generally, Arriva was willing to compromise; for example one bus was withdrawn from Momples Road but another was re-routed to cover it.

I then met with regional director Bob Dorr, who told me that due to commercial reasons the company would have to withdraw completely from two routes because they were already covered by other bus operators and Arriva could not run them at a loss.

However, he did say Arriva had listened to the comments from Harlow residents on the telephone and email hotlines that we had set up and that it would be willing to make some further changes to the revised timetable. These changes will happen this month.

I have also had discussions with the bus companies to try and make it easier for disabled people and pensioners with scooters as at present very few scooters are allowed on buses.

With bus routes, it is not easy to get everything done as all residents would like and I have no power to force bus companies to do anything. However, I have worked hard to represent residents' concerns and to press for a fair deal.

I'm grateful for cancer service

SIR, The news that the cancer

Michael Hardware
Great Brays, Harlow

SIR, Last week you published a letter from John Curry who said that road speed limits above 40mph have no place in Harlow. I totally disagree with this view and I'm sure I speak for many other car drivers.

Over the years the speed limits in Harlow have got slower and slower, even though cars are much safer now than they were years ago. If we make things any slower then we may as well not have roads.

Mr Curry speaks in a way that makes cyclists sound like they can do no wrong and that car drivers are a menace. Well some of the way cyclists conduct themselves on the roads in Harlow is shameful.

Often cyclists ride on the roads at night with no front or rear lights. People with cars have to pay large amounts of insurance and tax to be on the roads but the last time I checked cyclists didn't have to pay anything. If cyclists had to pay insurance or some form of tax for using the roads then I think more people would champion the voice of the cyclist

There are many cycle paths in Harlow which cyclists seem to ignore which baffles me.

And if you ever walk along Templefields in rush hour you will see the havoc caused by cyclists. Lorry drivers are forced into the middle of the road to overtake them, yet there is a cycle path running parallel with the road which these cyclists do not use.

So much is done to accommodate the cyclist including tracks which are for their exclusive use, yet car users don't have this privilege.

If Gilden Way is reduced to a 40mph limit, the next step would be to convert the M11 into a six-lane cycle track. Then we can all visit the London Eye on our unicycles outreach service is reducing its staff by three has left me feeling sad.

Being a cancer patient myself, I have on many occasions found the information and the time given a big help and comfort, as well as the fact that they were there as an ear outside the family just to listen to me.

How could this service be scaled down when people like myself have been grateful to have someone not wearing a uniform or sitting behind a desk a nice change?

We needed them and we thank them for being there.

Pitch surrounded by loads of litter

SIR, This morning I took my dog for short walk around Nicholls Field, dutifully carrying my dog poo bags as I don't want a fine.

However, I found that I couldn't let my dog off his lead because of the amount of plastic bottles, pop and beer cans and other assorted rubbish, including broken glass, littered around the edge of a football pitch.

I face a fine for not clearing my dog's mess up. It seems there isn't a fine for dropping litter.

Thanks for handing in swimming bag

SIR, I would like to thank the person who handed in my granddaughter's swimming bag which she had left on the No. 5 bus on the afternoon of Tuesday, August 23.

I was no angel ...except in the school nativity!

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THEY may not have been theatrical masterpieces but we all remember our school nativity play.

Whether you were chosen to play the part of Mary or Joseph or were given the role of an angel or a shepherd, it was, no doubt a memorable moment for you and your proud parents.

Melanie Crocker (nee Bishop), who sent in this picture of the cast of her nativity play at William Martin School back in the late 1960s, said she was one of the 13 angels who made an appearance that year.

"Everyone always wanted to be an angel," she said. "I was anything but an angel, though! I was very naughty at school, always attention seeking and disrupting classes.

"Even in the photo (front row, second from right) I look like I was looking around to see what everyone else was up to. I was a horrible child!"

Melanie says she thinks she was about nine or 10 at the time of the play and quite new to the school.

"I was at Jerounds before so I hadn't been at William Martin for long, just a couple of years before I moved up to Latton Bush secondary," she explained.

"The only other person I remember is a girl called Leonie who was actually responsible for giving me a copy of this photo when I bumped into her at college one year.

"I remember her dad was either a senior teacher or maybe even the headmaster at the school. Unfortunately my memory isn't that good!"

Now aged 52 and living in South Woodham Ferrers with her husband and two children, Melanie says the only other thing she can remember about her time at William Martin is attending the recorder club.

"I was even a nightmare there," she said. "I remember at the time I was going through my Freddie 'Parrot-Face' Davies impressionist phase where I would imitate him all the time. Unfortunately I don't think it was really appreciated in recorder club."

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Firefighters rescue dog

THE heart-warming yet chilly tale of Sam the Samoyed dog's rescue from a frozen pond featured in Nostalgia a fortnight ago has provoked a response from one of the dog's saviours.

Readers may remember it was the quick actions of firefighter Tony Turnbull who jumped into the pond at Fold Croft on that day in February 1981 that saved Sam's life.

Alex Cockburn, of Old Harlow – who is pictured second from the right in the newspaper photo – got in touch after his son told him about the article.

"I remember the day well," he said. "I must have been about 30 years old then and had been with the brigade for about two years.

"Tony was a big boy. He just jumped in and got on with it but you'd never be able to do that nowadays, not without filling out a load of risk assessment forms and so forth."

Alex, who is no longer with the brigade, said he had some really good times with the team. "We had a lot of fun back in those days, it was a good group," he said. "I can tell you everyone's names. From left to right there is John Ratnage, then Tony, John Foster, Phil Haywood, me and Les Bishop."

He added: "It was my son who told me about the picture being in the paper. He phoned up and kindly told me it was like in The Simpsons when Homer looks back at old pictures of himself and has hair. Charming!"

➔ The Dunmow town crier is refusing to take part in Harlow events because of the council's ban on playing the National Anthem. He turned down an invitation to appear at Sunday's Old Harlow Victorian Fair because he said he did not want to be associated with an unpatriotic town.

➔ Raiders escaped with a safe containing about £700 from the Little Chef restaurant in Potter Street on Monday after they dragged it away using ropes and two cars. The safe was taken after the thieves broke into the building near junction seven of the M11 in the early hours of the morning.

➔ Street cars and barrows dating back to the turn of the century will make a welcome reappearance in Harlow from Sunday – but not on the town's roads. Harlow Museum has bought seven at a sale and they will be displayed in a special exhibition at Passmore House.

➔ School days will be happier for little Kelly Morris after her mum won an appeal to get her into a school closer to her home. The four-year-old's mum Caron was triumphant in her battle to get her daughter into Sumners after she was originally placed at Kingsmoor school which is three times further away from where she lives.

Laser game centre is not just for kids

CHEERS: Events co-ordinator Luke Webster and Carol Webb enjoy a drink in the new bar at Harlow Quasar Elite

GROWN-ups can now test their laser shooting skills and then boast about their prowess over a drink following the opening of Harlow Quasar Elite's new bar.

The town centre venue, in Harvey Centre Approach, recently underwent a £10,000 refurbishment in a bid to encourage more adults to take advantage of its facilities.

As well as the bar there is a new seating area with coverage of Sky Sports on large screen TVs.

"We are particularly trying to sell the corporate side of things and want local businesses to know that we have these fantastic facilities for company events and team building days," said events co-ordinator Luke Webster.

"The new bar provides a really slick, comfortable environment for people to have a few drinks before or after a game of Quasar, or just on a social night out."

He added: "It isn't a heavy drinking place. It is a venue unique to Harlow where people can come, relax and unwind for the night."

It's time to choose a secondary school

PARENTS are being encouraged to apply early for secondary school places for September 2012.

The deadline for applications is October 31.

Stephen Castle, Essex County Council's cabinet member for education, said: "Applying for the right schools for your child is an important decision and I would urge parents to use the tools available to ensure they make an informed application."

Applications can be made via the website at www.essex.gov.uk/admissions which also includes school information, Ofsted reports and admissions criteria.

Last year more than 90 per cent of Essex parents were offered their first or second preference of primary or secondary school.

Rare species of British spider gets new home

ONE of the UK's rarest species of spider is slowly making a comeback after being moved to a brand new home – in old plastic bottles.

The ladybird spider, which gets its name from the unusual red and black markings on the backs of males, is being reintroduced at a nature reserve in Dorset, south-west England.

Plastic bottles are ideal places for the spiders to make their nests. The bottles are filled with heather and moss before the spiders are placed inside.

Less than 20 years ago they were on the brink of being wiped out completely. Back in 1994 only 56 of the spiders were still alive but over the past few years the hard work of conservationists has seen numbers increasing to more than 1,000.

This has involved captive breeding, reintroduction and habitat restoration.

Toby Branston, a nature reserve warden at the spiders' new home, told reporters: "To be introducing such a rare new species here is very exciting and I hope we can help spread it further."

By Chris Moss

CHASE away those post-holiday blues with a trip to the theatre this month as Harlow Playhouse kicks off its exciting new autumn/winter season.

Starting on Saturday with the first-ever stage production of hit children's CBeebies show Numberjacks, the new programme is packed with entertainment for all the family. Drama fans are in for a treat with a total of seven shows to choose from, beginning next Friday (September 16) with Global Productions' side-splitting adaptation of classic wartime farce See How They Run.

The theatre will again be offering its 3-for-2 drama ticket, giving theatregoers the chance to pick from shows including Peter Shaffer's haunting Equus (October 13-16), Louise Roche's outrageous Big Pants & Botox (November 3) and John Steinbeck's powerful Of Mice And Men (November 9).

Those looking for laughter can enjoy the wit and wordplay of Giles Brandreth on October 14 as well as rib-tickling sets from hellraising loon Jerry Sadowitz on October 30, TV sketch show superstar Stephen K Amos on November 4 and veteran stand-up Jeremy Hardy on November 18.

The season's music programme starts from Year Zero on September 24 with a snarling tribute to punk legends The Sex Pistols and also features gigs from UK rock 'n' roll legends Marty Wilde (September 30) and Joe Brown (November 8), punctuated by the tongue-in-cheek pop parodies of The Barron Knights on October 9 and the ethereal sounds of the Osiligi Maasai Warriors on October 12.

Other highlights on a packed programme include legendary TV magician Paul Daniels' hair-raising new show on September 21, Rare Productions' dazzling musical adaptation of Oliver on October 27-29, this year's pantomime Peter Pan throughout December and a special charity gala performance celebrating the theatre's 40th anniversary on November 6.

Theatre general manager Scott Ramsay said: "We're gradually introducing more drama into the programme and our Drama Ticket is a wonderfully inexpensive way of taking advantage of the range of dramas on offer.

"We also continue to bring a diverse range of original and tribute artists to Harlow, as well as some well known children's television names."

BUDDING actors have a chance to shine at open auditions for the Playhouse panto.

Producers of this year's production of Peter Pan are looking for teenagers to appear in the senior chorus. Hopefuls must be 17 or 18, strong dancers with the ability to lift and be capable of good character portrayal.

The auditions take place on Sunday from 10.30am-12.30pm, with a 10.15am registration time. Clothing appropriate for dancing must be worn.

Successful candidates must be available every Sunday during November and for the panto which runs from December 2 to January 2. For more information call (01279) 446739 or (01279) 446702.

Bails of laughter during cricket play rehearsals

REHEARSALS can be a tense time for any drama group, but that's not the case for the cast of Harlow Theatre Company's forthcoming production of the cricketing comedy Outside Edge.

"Rehearsals are proving to be the least of his worries. This is not a comedy about cricket but about cricketers and their wives.

The production begins a four-night run at the Victoria Hall Theatre in Old Harlow on Wednesday, September 21. Performances begin at 8pm and tickets cost £10 (£8 concessions except for the Saturday performance when all tickets are £10).

To book, call (01279) 420062 or 07973 679364.

PEN PALS: Mila Kunis and Justin Timberlake star in FRIENDS WITH BENEFITS

FRIENDS WITH BENEFITS certificate 15, 1h49m

FOR the first hour, Friends With Benefits rages against the stream of Hollywood romantic comedies, decrying the use of soppy music to manipulate emotions or the last-minute declarations of love in iconic locations that result in a happy ever after finale.

So far, so refreshing. But then in a staggering volte-face, director Will Gluck embraces every one of those same conventions and contrivances to bring together its two perfectly-matched protagonists for a saccharine ending.

It's difficult to know whether we are witnessing an act of staggering arrogance or stupidity on the part of the writers, force-feeding us the same narrative candyfloss we have been told, not 30 minutes earlier, is ridiculous.

Corporate headhunter Jamie (Mila Kunis) woos talented website director Dylan (Justin Timberlake) to New York with a view to securing his employment at GQ magazine. She shows him around the city and quickly wins him over.

Since they both have wounded hearts, Jamie and Dylan agree that it would be perfectly acceptable to enjoy no-strings-attached sex without any possibility of them falling for each other like the sappy Hollywood romantic comedies they both loathe.

While Dylan's sexually voracious gay work colleague Tommy (Woody Harrelson) and Jamie's hippy mother Lorna (Patricia Clarkson) foresee trouble on the horizon, the two professionals continue with their agreement, blind to the consequences of their couplings.

Meanwhile, Dylan and his sister (Jenna Elfman) contend with the deteriorating health of their father (Richard Jenkins).

Friends With Benefits bears obvious similarities to the Natalie Portman-Ashton Kutcher comedy No Strings Attached from earlier this year. Both films peddle the myth that you can divorce sex and emotions and, in both cases, carnal desires kindle far deeper emotions for the bed-hopping protagonists.

Timberlake and Kunis are ably supported by Harrelson in scene-stealing form and the resplendent Clarkson, who stumbles upon her daughter in flagrante.

The subplot about Jenkins' father succumbing to Alzheimer's is lightly addressed, providing a modicum of substance beneath all of the fluffy wrapping.

>>still on screen

One Day Anne Hathaway and Jim Sturgess take the leads as bookish Yorkshire lass Emma Morley and charming ladies' man Dexter Mayhew, who have a drunken encounter on their graduation on St Swithin's Day in 1988, and make a pact to remain friends. True to their words the two friends stay in touch throughout the next few years, as Dex travels around the world while Emma slaves away in a Mexican restaurant in London. As the years pass by and despite the friends working in London, they often lose touch before reconnecting again. One Day charts their lives throughout 20 years, as they deal with the joys and heartbreaks of life.

The Inbetweeners Movie As Will (Simon Bird), Neil (Blake Harrison) Jay (James Buckley) and Simon (Joe Thomas) wave goodbye to Rudge Park Comprehensive, they decide they need a proper lads' holiday in Crete to reinvent themselves. Of course, nothing goes according to plan - their accommodation is a hell-hole, they wind up in the saddest club on the resort strip, get into scrapes, get drunk and then get naked.

Rise Of The Planet Of The Apes Scientist Will Rodman (James Franco) is working on a cure for Alzheimer's and tests his latest serum on chimpanzees, noticing dramatic increases in intelligence and brain activity in the primate subjects. But when he is ordered to shut down the project he smuggles a baby chimp out of the lab and raises the infant at home. But he comes to learn that meddling with nature has repercussions.

The Smurfs (3D & 2D) When the evil wizard Gargamel chases the tiny blue Smurfs out of their village, they tumble through a portal joining their magical world to ours. They end up in New York from where they must find their way home.

Mr Popper's Penguins (Saturday and Sunday only) The life of businessman Tom Popper (Jim Carrey) is changed after he inherits six penguins.

Spy Kids: All The Time In The World (Saturday and Sunday only) Retired spy Marissa Wilson Cortez (Jessica Alba) is called back into action to stop the evil Timekeeper from taking over the world and invites her stepchildren along for the adventure.

The Wiggles Big Birthday (Saturday and Sunday) It's the biggest children's party of the year as Anthony, Murray, Sam and Jeff and their friends Dorothy the Dinosaur, Captain Feathersword, Wags the Dog and Henry the Octopus celebrate two decades as the world's foremost children's entertainers.

>>movies for juniors

Gulliver's Travels Travel writer Lemuel Gulliver (Jack Black) takes an assignment in Bermuda but ends up on the island of Lilliput where he towers over its tiny citizens.

Hop EB, the teenage son of the Easter Bunny, harbours dreams of becoming a drummer in a rock band so he runs away from the warren and heads for Hollywood, where he finds an unexpected ally in eternal loser Fred O'Hare.

JANE Eyre (Mia Wasikowska) flees Thornfield Hall where she has been employed as a governess for the young ward of Edward Rochester (Michael Fassbender) and seeks refuge with clergyman St John Rivers (Jamie Bell) and his sisters Diana (Holliday Grainger) and Mary (Tamzin Merchant).

As Jane recuperates, she recalls her childhood with her cruel aunt Mrs Reed (Sally Hawkins) and as a pupil at Lowood charity school run by the sadistic Mr Brocklehurst (Simon McBurney).

Once Jane comes of age she finds employment at Thornfield where housekeeper Mrs Fairfax (Dame Judi Dench) welcomes her warmly and Mr Rochester falls under her spell. But he conceals a dark secret that could poison their relationship forever.

COLOMBIANA certificate 15 1h47m

IN 1992 Colombia, 10-year-old Cataleya (Amanda Stenberg) witnesses the deaths of her parents at the hands of thug Marco (Jordi Molla) who is in the employ of druglord Don Luis (Beno Benites).

Determined to avenge the murder of her parents, the girl heads to Chicago to reunite with her gangster uncle Emilio (Cliff Curtis).

Fast-forwarding 15 years, Cataleya (Zoe Saldana) has blossomed into a sexy assassin responsible for 22 murders. FBI Special Agent Ross (Lennie James) is on her trail but she will not end the killing spree until Don Luis and Marco are both six feet under.

Complicating matters, Cataleya is romantically involved with artist Danny (Michael Vartan), who wants to know more about the woman in his life.

 It seems to be a pattern, encountering people who appear to challenge you or restrict your independence. To deal with this, try to take everything down to the most practical of levels.  Lucky Jupiter, in your sign, is forging a great link with the Sun this week. Don't see any challenge as being beyond you. Yet there may be some confusion around older or younger members of the family. You are the one who can use your personality to nip any conflicts in the bud. In love, you can draw some admiring glances. Call for your love scope in full...

 Mars is giving you a cutting edge, but in its link to the slinky Venus this can give your personality an extra, sexy boost. Your conversations can also be full of fun, but around money matters, don't be muddled or frivolous. You could decide to splash out on something, and then realize it is no better than what you already have. Call for your financial scope...

 You may realize the value of something that has been gathering dust in your attic or see a long standing savings plans or insurance policy pay out more than you hope for.  Wow, this really can be a time of sparkling developments - provided you don't let any little fears get in the way of progress. Nor let anyone subtly guilt trip you. The whirlwind has arrived!

We have a new 'kid on the block' and it's exhausting!

James Reyland joined us last Thursday like a tornado and it's amazing how much a new, fresh attitude lifts the office and the sales team!

Within days of linking up with the other James (now known as Jim – confused!) they have, together, created so much activity that you would think it's back to the good old days when many homes came to market, had early viewings and sales within days!

I'm giddy with the bustle. The team are flying around from morning to night, I'm hiding upstairs in the peace and quiet.

I haven't experienced so much activity and enthusiasm for ages and our sellers and buyers seem to be responding with the same positive attitude.

The machete story, if you remember? We had a call from someone offering to provide one, it was the next door neighbour! We really feel for this person, almost 20 years of living next door to a forest, it's so unfair. We are trying to encourage our client to show some responsibility and allow someone to cut back this jungle.

Driver and Vehicle
Licensing Agency

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from

It's a family affair for new champions

IT was all relative for Harlow Cricket Club's fourth team as they clinched the Shepherd Neame Essex League 4th XI division three championship.

Harlow (64-2) clinched the title when they thrashed Ilford (61: Niall Lawless 6-14, Joe Riddell 4-16) by eight wickets on Saturday.

Harlow skipper Rob Coldwell, 47, had in his side stepson Dave Rogerson (19) who scored 26 not out, as well as sons Sean Coldwell (17) and James Coldwell (16).

Coldwell's other sons Liam (15) and Alex (14) have also played in the team this year. Alex and James both scored a half century apiece earlier in the season, while Sean took the most catches of any outfielder (9).

Coldwell snr said: "It's a team game at the end of the day, but it makes me proud to have the lads involved. We had all six of us involved for just under half the games.

"We needed two points to clinch promotion and the full 18 points to clinch the title. We were never out of the top four and won five out of our last six games."

Coldwell snr joined Harlow Cricket Club in 2001 after playing for Nettleswell & Burnt Mill CC before that.

He said: "Last year the fourths had to concede four games and we finished second from bottom. There was a question mark about getting out a side before the season and I guaranteed to get 11 people [every week].

"It has been a great team effort. I have played for 35 years and the spirit has been fantastic. I should also like to thank my vice-captain Russell Davies. He was helpful with his advice."

Lawless took 41 wickets and 13 year-old Joe Riddell claimed 17 wickets. Medium pacer Dave Lambert also took 27 wickets, while Coldwell snr scored 600 runs.

HAPPY DAYS: Rob Coldwell

Rams on the up after relegation

LEE Harron is buoyant about Harlow's prospects of bouncing straight back up with promotion this term.

The Rams were relegated from London division two north east after a disastrous season and will play in division three north east this term.

Harlow begin their league campaign at home to East London this Saturday (3pm start).

The 37-year-old senior coach said: "There is no reason why we cannot be promoted. The aim is to be at the top.

"I feel we have the ability. It's down to the boys to perform."

Last season Harlow's poor performances were at least partly caused by poor attendance at training, but this has been good during pre-season.

Harron said: "The pre-season has been good. We have had 35-40 players training and that has helped. That means we have been able to have players opposing each other at things like line-outs.

"We have good competition for places. We have 18 players going for 10 forwards spots [including 2 substitutes spots] and at least 12 backs going for 8 backs spots [including one substitute slot]."

Although they are a division lower, Harron does not expect an easy ride.

"East London will be difficult for the first game. You also have sides like Norwich and Sudbury in this division and new sides coming up," he said.

"We shall also be travelling further, to places like Newmarket and Stowmarket and players have to be ready for that."

Harron conceded that losing last year's skipper Scott Romaine to Bishop's Stortford was a huge blow. He has been replaced as first team captain by flanker Shaun Roberts.

Meanwhile, hookers Stuart Wilkins and Malta international Martin Mallia have returned to the club.

"It's a very difficult task replacing Scott Romaine. He is a very good player and we wish him all the best at Stortford," said Harron.

"Stuart Wilkins and Martin Mallia have both come back. They have not been involved for the last two years, but both are fit."

Harron said Romaine was a vocal captain whereas Roberts is a quieter one.

Metropolitan Police officer Harron has also been greatly encouraged by the performances of winger Werner Kotze, who comes from South Africa, but played for Woodford before coming to Harlow last season.

"He played for the seconds at the end of last season and it was too late to register him. He's quick and he's strong," said Harron.

Harlow beat Bancroft 27-20 in a friendly at home last Saturday.

Harlow's try scorers included Roberts (2), Wilkins and Mark Twiner, while veteran lock Paul Eynon was an inspiring presence.

After earlier dislocating a finger he had treatment and on his return for the last 15 minutes, Harlow overturned a 13-point deficit to win by nine points.

Harlow had earlier beaten Bancroft 37-7 in their pre-season campaign.

Last weekend also saw Harlow II lose 18-12 to a strong Bishop's Stortford side.

Women excel in final league meet

TWO excellent victories came from Harlow AC members in a Southern Women's League division one north match.

In the U-15 girls category, Naomi Harriman (13) claimed a personal best (PB) of 1.45m when she came first in the A-string high jump and Essex athlete Eleanor Moss (14) also triumphed in the A javelin (25.60m).

The event at Hemel Hempstead in Hertfordshire also saw Rosie Poole (12) just miss out on victory in the girls U-15 A 800m. She was second in two minutes, 38.5 seconds.

Lucy Freeman was first in the B-string 1,500m (8:03), third in the B discus (12.59m) and 5th in the A shot put (5.64m) in the U-15 girls category.

In the senior women's section, Stephanie Fuller shone with second spots in the A hammer (33.89m) and A discus (22.88m). She also claimed 5th in the A shot 5.74m.

● TWO first spots and personal bests (PBs) were achieved by Harlow-based athletes Tyler Bown (U-17 boys 400m 51.8s) and Molly Gardner (U-11 girls 75m 11.80s) in a Woodford open meeting at Ashton Playing Fields.

Molly also came third in the U-11 girls 600m in 2:05.3.

Other results: U-11s girls - Katie Woodstock (10) 4th 600m 2:07.7 PB; Lauren Barker (10) 5th 600m 2:13.9; Beth Gardner (9) 6th 600m 2:22 PB.

Harlow athletes hit top form for Essex

DANIEL Yaxley was sixth in the 800m when he represented Essex in an SEAA Inter-Countries Championship match.

The Harlow-based athlete clocked 1:58.47 in the U-20 age group in the 12-county event at Abingdon.

Daniel later came third in the 800m (1:59.37) and 3000m (9:43.25) when he competed for Woodford Green with Essex Ladies at a National Junior League meeting in Barnet.

Harlow AC athlete Dave Bauer represented Essex in another SEAA Inter-Countries Championship match last weekend. He won the B javelin with a throw of 37.55m.

In the senior women, Harlow's Kirsty McIntosh was first in the A string pole vault (3.50m).

Alex Hill, from Old Harlow, won the B string 200m (26.46s) and was 4th in the A string 400m (59.53s).

Stephanie Fuller was 4th in the B hammer (31.74m).

In the U-17 boys A 200m, Harlow's Tyler Bown (16) was third (22.91m, PB).

Semi woe in English fours

bowls

STEVE Mitchinson helped Essex reach the semi-finals of the mixed fours before the team bowed out of the English National Bowls Championships at Worthing.

The Harlow-based player and last year's English Singles Champion, had helped his side to a last four spot against Northumbria.

However, the team lost a close tie 19-13.

In the last 16, Essex beat Bedfordshire 33-7 and then won 21-5 in the quarter-final against Kent.

Mitchinson, who lives on the Church Langley estate, was representing Romford Bowls Club.

He played alongside Romford colleague Jamie Holmes, plus Rebecca and Myra Smith (both Clockhouse BC).

Boss' apology to travelling fans

HAWKS boss Danny Chapman has issued a public apology to fans who made the long journey up to Gorleston for Saturday's woe-ful FA Cup display.

Harlow Town went down 2-0 against a team that play one division below them.

"We would like to apologise to the supporters who made the journey. We knew it was not good enough and they knew it was not good enough."

APOLOGY: Hawks boss Danny Chapman

"We played really well for the first 15 or 20 minutes and I was quite confident at that stage."

Looking ahead to the league games at AFC Sudbury on Saturday and Enfield Town at home on Tuesday, Chapman said: "Sudbury will be tough and they were unlucky not to be in play-offs last season, but we are more than capable of winning both games."

"We can kick-start our season. The players know they have not performed to the best of their abilities."

Winger Steve Ferguson has joined Blue Square Bet South club Thurrock, although he will retain his Ryman League division one north registration with Harlow.

"He did not fit into the system we are playing and needs to be playing. He has gone to Thurrock. We have parted on good terms," said Chapman.

Right-back Donny Barnard also left the club last week as he was superfluous to the 3-5-2 system Chapman has deployed.

However, forward James Bunn may be included in the squad for the Sudbury game. He has been suffering with a groin injury.

Chapman said: "He came through training on Tuesday and we shall have to see how he does on Thursday [today] in training."

The registration of new forward Piers Wixon could not come through in time for the Gorleston game, but Harlow's manager expects him to make a big impact against Sudbury and Enfield.

Although he has made no approaches for other players, Chapman still has his eye on getting in a left-sided wing back and another striker. "There is still a lot of player movement at this stage of the season, but anybody coming in will have to be right for us."

FA Cup exit for sloppy Hawks

Brown's header hit a post.

But Gorleston looked a threat on the break and the impressive Harvey-Cooper was denied by a finger-tip save from Bossu.

Hawks boss Danny Chapman had no complaints about the penalty. "It was a blatant penalty. After the penalty our passing was sloppy and our general play was not good enough," he fumed.

And so after the poor display against Potter Bar, Harlow have now lost the chance of a Cup run – as well as the £1,500 available for the winners of this tie.

HARLOW TN: Bossu, Lemonius, Brown, Haverson, Gledhill, Marshall, Hegarty, Lalite, Pegram, Docker, Mitchell. Subs: Kirby, Taylor, Kilapi, Henry, Dumoulin.

Murtagh's PBs and club record

STEVE Murtagh's fantastic form saw him gain two personal bests (PBs) and two age group first places in two races.

The Harlow Running Club member was the first Veteran 40 finisher and was third overall from 318 runners in the Bedford 10km event.

He clocked a superb PB of 34 minutes and 51 seconds and broke a Harlow Running Club Vet 45 running record. This followed Murtagh registering a PB of 16:59 in the final race of the Stevenage Midweek 5K series.

He was the first Vet 40 finisher and also seventh overall from more than 170 finishers.

In doing so, he improved his own Harlow Running

Club Vet 45 record.

Murtagh also won the series Vet 40 trophy. Club colleague John Tennant won the Vet 60 trophy.

Other Harlow RC results in the Stevenage Midweek 5K series: Jamie Jephcott 26th, 18:31; Adrian Fell 33rd, 18:50 (PB); Richard Solomons 49th, 1st Vet 60, 19:49; John Tennant 52nd, 19:57; Sean Flynn 82nd, 21:34; Sharon Wright 85th, 21:45.

The Big Bossu

After trying out 5 other goalies, Town playing for keeps now

By DAVID RIMMER

david.rimmer@hertsessexnews.co.uk

FORMER Aberdeen, Gillingham and Darlington goalkeeper Bertrand Bossu is the sixth stopper used by Harlow Town already this season – but the club's director of football Kevin Warren hopes it's for keeps this time!

The towering 6ft 7ins 30-year-old Bossu appears to have had more clubs than Jack Nicklaus. He had played one friendly game for the Hawks in pre-season, but has returned to the club after an unsuccessful trial at League One Yeovil Town and fans will hope the towering stopper will have a lengthy stay at Barrows Farm.

Harlow boss Danny Chapman had hoped to land Elliott Justham after the youngster impressed in a couple of pre-season friendlies, but he opted to move to Ryman division one north rivals Brentwood.

Chapman also tried out Matt Stevenson, Michael Dumoulin and Ashley Harris before settling for Adam Rafis.

The ex-Romford custodian played in the club's first three league matches but when Bossu was rejected by Yeovil, Chapman managed to acquire the services of the Frenchman.

PLAYING FOR KEEPS: Bertrand Bossu in action against Potters Bar Town on his home debut on Bank Holiday Monday (HSP0765723). Inset, Harlow Town's director of football Kevin Warren

"Bert was on trial with one or two clubs and it had not quite worked out for him," explained Warren, who was appointed director of football near the end of last season. "When the opportunity to sign him came we knew that with the attributes he has got we had to sign him."

Bossu's lengthy career in professional football has also taken in Barnet, Crewe Alexandra and Walsall, but he has not been the first choice keeper at any of these clubs.

His longest spell in a first team was for non-League club Hayes between 2001 and 2003 when he chalked up 60 appearances – and even scored one goal!

But Bossu has a tremendous presence in the box and is a great signing for the Hawks.

"He has a massive presence in the box. He is very tall and will help the defence and brings a lot of experience. When the pitches are heavier, it's a lot more difficult. He will be able to get the distance [with his kicking]," said Warren.

Bossu impressed on his debut in the 1-0 win at Brentwood and made an outstanding one-handed stop against Potters Bar Town (a 1-1 draw) at Barrows Farm.

Warren explained that Rafis had opted to move on to seek first team football, so Dumoulin will continue to be the No.2 stopper for the club.

"Adam Rafis is no longer with the club. He wanted to be number one," Warren added.

The director of football is hopeful that striker Piers Wixon can fill the gap left by the departure of Lee Roache.

"We have not had an out and out goalscorer at the club for a while. It makes it difficult when you need more of a cushion [a bigger lead in games]," he said.

HOT FORM: Matt Hayden in action at Rye House Stadium (S)

Karter a catcher at the Rye

motor sport

NINE-year-old Harlow karter Matt Hayden is continuing to make an impact among the Honda Cadets at the famous Rye House Kart Raceway in Hoddesdon. As well as competing at the venue in the Hoddesdon Kart Club's regular monthly championship where he is up against older, more experienced racers in the Honda 8 category (for up to 13-year-olds), the Harlow youngster also competed in the prestigious two-day London Cup at Rye House.

There were two Honda categories this year in the London Cup.

In the first race, for Cadets, Matt started the final a very creditable 5th on the grid.

He lost ground almost immediately, but recovered well to get back to fourth on lap 11 before finding himself back in 7th spot a lap later.

A determined effort saw him regain one place to finish 6th overall.

In the second category, for Honda Clubmen, Matt started fourth on the grid by virtue of his results in earlier heats and was keen to make up for the disappointment in his earlier race.

Very few of the drivers raced twice during this meeting, so it was a real test of concentration and stamina for any racer – let alone for a nine-year-old – to race again just 30 minutes after the conclusion of his first event.

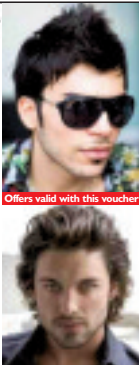

Matt gained a place to move into the top three on the third lap and tucked himself in behind Uzair Master (Stamford Hill) and race leader William Woods (Herne Bay). On lap 13, Matt overtook Master as he faded from the race and held his position until the chequered flag, resisting the challenge of Alfie Haralambous just behind him to secure second place.

After an extra lap around the track, where he received the cheers of the many watching spectators, he collected his second place trophy on the podium an hour later.

FA Cup exit for sloppy Hawks

Gorleston 2, Harlow Tn 0
FA Cup, prelim qualifying rnd

HARLOW Town's hopes of an FA Cup run were dashed as Danny Chapman's men slipped to a bitterly disappointing loss at Gorleston in the preliminary qualifying round.

It was not just the result against a team one division lower than Harlow in the non-League pyramid that will have hurt the Hawks fans who made the long trip up to the Eastern Counties team, but also the level of performance.

Harlow were thankful to giant keeper Bertrand Bossu, who did well to save Chris Sandford's shot on 18 minutes.

The hosts took the lead in controversial circumstances when Lamar Lemonius was adjudged to have fouled Ali McKenna in the box.

The Hawks defender was shown the yellow card.

Liam Harvey-Cooper dispatched the 27th-minute spot-kick.

Harlow could have been level soon after, but Luke Marshall's shot struck the underside of the bar and bounced clear from a corner.

Harlow had much of the possession but were again proving wasteful in attack, with Max Mitchell twice failing to hit the target with decent chances.

Gorleston made it 2-0 on 59 minutes when Harvey-Cooper cut into the box from the right and drilled past Bossu.

Harlow hit back and sub Rhys Henry went close before Danny ASPIRING footballers have the chance to attend a development centre in Harlow being run by newly-promoted Premier League club Norwich City.

Trials will be held at Paringdon Sports Club in Paringdon Road on September 17 for aspiring footballers.

After this, the best youngsters from the U-13 to U-16 age groups will be picked to attend the Player Development Centre (PDC) courses run by Norwich City coaches.

The courses will be run at the new Passmores School in Tracys Road. There will be five blocks of six-week intensive sessions throughout the 2011-12 season.

There will also be courses at a satellite centre for age groups ranging from U-7 to U-16 at Paringdon Sports Club.

There is a degree of flexibility so that youngsters aged between U-13 and U-16 can be switched between the PDC at Passmores School and the one run at the Paringdon Sports Club.

Norwich City's first team goalkeeping coach Jeff Wood, who has a role in youth development for the Canaries, spoke to the Star about the programme and stressed that player development at these age groups is crucial.

Wood is the former manager of Brighton & Hove Albion.

He also had a spell at Harlow Town in the latter stages of his career and coached the first team for a period in 2002 and 2003.

He explained: "This is about player development. We want them to play football. We do not want to pigeon-hole players in certain positions.

"It's on site [in Harlow]. They [the top players] would not come to Norwich until they are 15 or 16."

He added: "We are responsible. If they are not for Norwich we could recommend them to another pro club. Local clubs like Bishop's Stortford or Harlow Town could benefit [in the long run]."

The scheme in Harlow will be run by ex-Hawks player Steve Blaney, a former professional at West Ham United and Brentford, who is director of the coaching course.

Blaney has a UEFA B level coaching badge and is a senior tutor in sport at Harlow College.

He helps to run a course at the Velizy Avenue complex for students who wish to become football coaches. Wood, a UEFA A coach, took over as goalkeeping coach at Carrow Road in February.

His playing career took in Colchester, Charlton Athletic and Exeter City before he managed Brighton from December 1996 until April 1999, when he was sacked after a 13-match losing streak.

Wood was delighted to help launch the centre in Harlow as he has enjoyed close ties with the town for several years.

He said: "Steve Blaney is a very good coach. He also has been a pro and was at West Ham with Tony Carr, one of the best youth coaches in the country."

Matt Waldron, the ex-Bishop's Stortford player now at Sawbridgeworth Town, plus ex-Barnet defender Warren Goodhind are other UEFA B coaches who will help run the courses.

Blaney said: "Norwich have seen what Ipswich have done in Harlow. It's a hotbed for talent."

For more information call Blaney on 07710 512482 or Paringdon Sports Club on (01279) 418411.
